

Jeff Davis Parish
100 Rue de l'Acadie
Jennings, LA 70546
1-800-442-5539
www.jeffdavis.org

TOURIST COMMISSION

Jeff Davis Parish

Jeff Davis Parish

Jeff Davis Parish, Louisiana is a charming and endearing destination for visitors looking to explore the cultural and natural beauty of Southern Louisiana. The parish is in the southwestern part of the state and is home to a range of attractions.

Known for its beautiful landscape and rich culture, Jeff Davis Parish is home to many annual events and festivals that showcase the unique traditions and customs of the local community. Small town festivals and celebrations are offered year round, from local music and craft fair, to Mardis Gras and other holiday celebrations. Whether you are a local resident or a visitor, there is always something exciting happening in Jeff Davis Parish!

One of the main draws of Jeff Davis Parish is its rich and deeply rooted Cajun culture. Visitors can immerse themselves in this vibrant culture by attending local festivals. Every other weekend, you can even attend a live Cajun Music Jam, right at the Visitor Center! There are Cajun restaurants in the parish where visitors can enjoy the splendid and worldly taste of the region's many dishes.

For those interested in outdoor activities, Jeff Davis Parish has a plethora of parks and nature preserves, including the Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge. These areas offer opportunities for birdwatching, fishing, and camping. Additionally, the parish is home to the Louisiana Oil and Gas Park.

Visitors to Jeff Davis Parish should also take the time to explore some of the historic landmarks in the area. The city of Jennings, for example, has a beautiful downtown area with many historic buildings.

Another highlight of Jeff Davis Parish is its delicious and diverse culinary scene. The parish is known for its Cajun cuisine. Visitors can enjoy traditional dishes like boudin, gumbo, and crawfish étouffée at local restaurants.

The Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, spanning over 35,000 acres, is a haven for wildlife such as alligators, waterfowl, and various species of birds. Nature lovers can explore the refuge by hiking, biking, or taking a wildlife drive. Located in southwestern Louisiana, Jeff Davis Parish is a beautiful area that offers plentiful outdoor activity. Visitors to the area will find plenty to do and see.

Jeff Davis Parish is a cozy nook nestled in Louisiana offering memorable experiences and unique attractions. Be to check out their comfortable and affordable hotel and lodging accommodations to book your visit.