Jefferson Parish

Jefferson Parish, Louisiana is a diverse community sprawling the southern shore of Lake Pontchartrain and ending sixty miles later on the beaches of the Gulf of Mexico. Nestled next to our famous neighbor, New Orleans, Jefferson Parish offers a vibrant nightlife, as well as the quiet serenity of a nature walk. Our communities are comprised of modern high-rises, historic homes, fishing piers, Mississippi River views, marshland, contemporary and old-world restaurants, flourishing industrial parks, and family-friendly green spaces. With two major convention centers and numerous recreational facilities, Jefferson hosts conferences, meetings, exhibits, theatrical performances, and sports tournaments. Attractions ranging from historical to adventurous and budget-conscious accommodations provide families with a memorable vacation. We invite you to visit Jefferson Parish. Chat with the locals at a fair or festival. Celebrate at a Mardi Gras parade. Taste our delicious authentic Louisiana cuisine. Shop the retail capitol of Louisiana. Fish and hunt in a sportsman's paradise. Hike and camp in beautiful state parks, and swim and boat along our coast. Rich in culture, diverse in its people and steeped in tradition, Jefferson Parish is waiting to be explored.
