Paprika, cayenne, black pepper, onion, shrimp, and crawfish. A roux of butter and flour. These are the tastes of Cajun food, a style of cuisine exclusive to southern Louisiana.

Lafayette, named one of the “Tastiest Towns in the South” by Southern Living and “Best U.S. Food City” in Rand McNally/USA Today’s Best of the Road, is THE place to taste it. And local guides who've spent their entire lives passionate about south Louisiana are there to guide you all the way.

Experience the many mouthwatering flavors of the region on one of the daily tours offered by Cajun Food Tours. Taste popular dishes like gumbo, etouffee, seafood, boudin, king cake, and more as you visit numerous eateries while your guide brings the culture to life.

On the Original Cajun Food Tour, you’ll visit five of Lafayette's top restaurants (there are more than 30 on the long list of possibilities!) and get to know the Acadiana region’s culinary profile. This is the tour to taste many of the Cajun originals!

The Walking Breaux Bridge Food Tour meets in the historic downtown for a comfortable stroll down the streets of this 200-year-old settlement. You’ll rest in the celebrated eateries along the way for a mouth-watering experience.

Tours aren’t limited to the culinary delights of Acadiana. The Around the World tour provides the experience of Louisiana's cultural melting pot with delicacies of Asian, European and Latin cultures. It's a tasting adventure “beyond the borders” of Louisiana as you visit local restaurants that serve up flavors from across the globe. Travel around the world without leaving Lafayette Parish!
